Nyamagabe District gets funds for responding to climate crisis

On the sidelines of the 27th United Nations Climate Change Conference (COP27), Nyamagabe District was announced as a grantee of the Global Cities Fund for Migrants and Refugees (GCF), an initiative to respond to the unmet needs of cities as they support migrants, refugees, and internally displaced people (IDPs).

Nyamagabe District welcomed this initiative by Mayors Migration Council (MMC), which will be used in converting waste from a local refugee camp (Kigeme) into renewable energy for the area at large, reducing deforestation, creating green jobs, and building social cohesion in the process.

Through the Global Cities Fund, Mayors Migration Council will direct $1.2M to six African cities including Nyamagabe as they support migrants and displaced people affected by the Climate Crisis.

Launched in 2021 at the United Nations Climate Change Conference (COP26) by the Mayors Migration Council (MMC) and C40 Cities Climate Leadership Group (C40 Cities) in partnership with the Robert Bosch Stiftung (RBSG), the GCF drives financial and technical resources to African cities addressing the needs of migrants and displaced people affected by the climate crisis.

"African cities may be disproportionately impacted by the climate crisis, but we're also the ones showing the world how to develop innovative, inclusive solutions that make cities more sustainable—environmentally, economically, and socially," said Hildebrand Niyomwungeri, Mayor of Nyamagabe District.

"The helping hand of the Global Cities Fund for Migrants and Refugees will create jobs for our displaced neighbors, convert waste into greener energy sources, and build vital kinship between Nyamagabe's refugee camp and its wider community."

Following this move, on November 23, Nyamagabe District Executive Committee received a UNHCR team led by Olivier Lompo and discussed climate adaptation projects to be financed by the funds.
